Mrs. Nelson Complimented.

Mrs. Hugh Nelson, of Elizabeth, N. J., who is the house guest of Mrs. A. Blaine Blair, at No. 408 West Franklin Street, was complimented yesterday afternoon by her hostess, who gave an informal bridge party and tea in her honor.

Decorations were American Beauty roses. Some of the leading society women of the city, including Mrs. C. A. Swanson, had the pleasure of meeting Mrs. Nelson, and of experiencing Mrs. Blair's always charming hospitality.

Holden-Loyall.

A beautiful wedding took place yesterday at noon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Bryan Williams, No. 301 Montello Avenue, Barton Heights, when their niece, Miss Frances Lee Loyall, became the bride of Mr. John Calvin Holden, of this city. Rev. Dr. Jere Witherspoon, of Grace Street Presbyterian Church, was the officiating clergyman.

The decorative scheme of green and white was charmingly elaborated with palms, smilax, ferns and growing plants. Green tapers in crystal candelabra cast a soft illumination. Miss Clara Allen Tompkins had charge of the music, playing the bridal choruses from "Lohengrin" as the processional and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" as the recessional.

Mr. Henry S. Todd, of this city, was best man, and the ushers were: Mr. Leroy B. Harper and Mr. Richard F. Reynolds. Master Francis Williams, the bride's cousin, was ring-bearer.

The bride entered with her uncle, Mr. C. Bryan Williams. She was becomingly gowned in white messaline, en princess, and wore a white picture hat. Her flowers were white sweet peas.

The bridal party was entertained at an informal reception Tuesday evening. Wedding gifts were numerous and handsome, consisting of silver, cut-glass and bric-a-brac. After a Northern tour, Mr. and Mrs. Holden will make their home in this city.

Rayhorn-Hudson.

The marriage of Miss Mary Frances Hudson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius C. Hudson, of No. 2620 East Clay Street, to Dr. Leroy Elmer Rayhorn, took place last evening at 7 o'clock in the Third Christian Church, the pastor, Rev. Gerald Culbertson, officiating.

The altar was banked with palms. Mr. Manly B. Ramos presided at the organ.

Miss Mattie Lee Hudson, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. She was prettily gowned in white mull, with touches of pink, and carried pink carnations tied with tulle. Other attendants were the ushers: Rev. C. B. Richardson, of Petersburg; Mr. C. C. Hitt, Dr. James Lettich, Jr., and Mr. George Wrenn.

The bride was stylishly gowned in a tan traveling suit, with a violet hat. She carried Brido roses tied with white tulle.

After a Northern tour, which will include a visit to Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York, Dr. and Mrs. Rayhorn will be at home at No. 2616 East Clay Street.

Smith-Delancy.

A marriage of much interest to friends and relatives of the bride in Richmond was that of Miss Nellie Williams Delancy, youngest daughter of Mr. Chester Alexander Delancy and the late Mary Bigelow Delancy, to Mr. James Dallas Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Smith, of Philadelphia, which took place last evening at 8 o'clock in the home of the bride's father, No. 540 Quincy Avenue, Scranton, Pa. Rev. R. F. Y. Pierce, of the Baptist Church, officiated.

The house was profusely decorated with palms, ferns, smilax and white and purple lilies. Miss Salome Becker played the wedding march. The only attendants were the bride's sisters, Mrs. Allan Pendleton Turner, of New Jersey, and Mrs. Malcolm Elmer Wall, of Scranton, and the best man, Mr. Clyde P. Smith, brother of the groom.

The bride entered with her father. She was elegantly gowned in white crepe d'Angelo, trimmed with a bertha and yoke of Irish lace and chiffon. Her ornaments were pearls and her flowers were white lilies.

Mrs. Turner, herself a bride, wore her wedding gown of white crepe de chine and embroidered chiffon, and carried purple lilies. Mrs. Wall had a gown in white and lavender pompadour mull, trimmed with lace and worn with a girle of pompadour ribbon to match. She also carried purple lilies.

A large reception followed the ceremony, the color scheme being effectively carried out in dining-room decorations and refreshments. After an extended tour Mr. and Mrs. Smith will be at home at No. 5650 Cedar Avenue, Philadelphia. The bride formerly resided in Richmond.

Lipscomb-Van Pelt.

A very pretty wedding will take place in the home of Mrs. Anne L. Van Pelt, No. 16 East Marshall Street, this morning at 10:30 o'clock, when her daughter, Jessie, will be married to Mr. Joseph Minor Lipscomb, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lipscomb, of Low Moor, Va. Rev. Dr. T. McN. Simpson, of Clay Street Methodist Church, will perform the ceremony.

Miss Grace Allen Van Pelt will attend her sister as maid of honor, and Mr. Frank A. Seay will be best man.

Mr. Lipscomb and his bride will make a tour of the North, and will be at home after April 25th in Low Moor, Va.

Among the out-of-town guests who are here to attend the wedding are Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Brown, of Williamsburg; Mr. Arthur Van Pelt, of Newport News; Miss Ethel Nutty, of Low Moor, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. William Lipscomb, of Hinton, Va.; the Misses Jenkins, of Elmont, Va.; the Misses Carter, of Waynes, Va.; Miss Maude Foxdexter, of Frederick's Hall, Va.

Veterans Entertained.

The entertainment given on Friday evening last in Randolph Hall, Lee Camp, Soldiers' Home, proved a source of much enjoyment to a large number of veterans and their friends.

A clever and attractive little comedy, "Left in Charge," was presented by a number of young people. Mr. Raymond White also entertained the audience with several humorous recitations.

Those taking part were: Misses Alene Steinhilf, Elsie Thornton, Laura Gilkison, Kella Fitzgerald, Louise Camp; Messrs. Tallafiero Thompson, Henry Staples, Park Thornton, McCarty Thornton and Raymond White.

These young people have the thanks and hearty appreciation of the veterans and the ladies who are in charge of the Home.

Regent Re-Elected.

Mrs. Samuel W. Jamison, of Roanoke, was re-elected regent for Virginia at the Continental Congress, Daughters of the American Revolution, Tuesday, at the American Hotel, of Lynchburg. Mrs. John D. Hensley, of Lynchburg, who has been vice-regent of the State for several years, was also re-elected. Virginia is represented in the congress by delegates from twenty-one chapters.

Sue Gordon Whist.

The Sue Gordon Whist Club will meet this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock with Mrs. Beverly D. Crump, at No. 831 West Grace Street.

Meeting Postponed.

There will be no meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Second Baptist Church this afternoon. The meeting will be held instead on next Thursday at 4:30 P. M.

In Honor of Mrs. Venable.

Mrs. Robert Blankenship, of No. 610 East Franklin Street, entertained Tuesday at a party in honor of Mrs. William Henry Venable, of Norfolk, who is the guest of her brothers, the Messrs. Wight, at No. 1902 Hanover Avenue.

Assisting in receiving were Mrs. Austin Brockbrough, Mrs. Clarence Radot and Mrs. William Tallafiero. Mrs. Richard Morris presided at the tea table.

Mrs. Venable was also complimented at an informal card party given Tuesday morning by Mrs. Larkin Glazebrook, of No. 208 West Main Street.

Enjoyable Event.

The concert to be given to-morrow evening in the Woman's Club, under the auspices of the Kindergarten Alumnae Association, promises to be a delightful one in every way.

Mrs. Thomas Scott, Mrs. Curry, Mrs. W. W. Archer, Mrs. E. C. Minor, Mrs. Ben Johnston, Miss Claire Gull-laine, Mrs. Egbert Leitch, Mrs. J. Alston Cabell, Mrs. W. R. Cox, Miss Alice Parker, Mrs. B. B. Valentine and Mrs. Richard Meade have consented to act as patronesses, and the announcement of their interest in the musicale assures its success.

The proceeds will be used to aid in founding a school in the Richmond Training School for Kindergarten.

Last Meeting.

The Literary Round Table held its last meeting for the season yesterday afternoon. The subject under discussion was "The Opening of Thibet," by Perceval Landon, with Miss Annie Winston as chairman. Miss Winston brought out several interesting points about a very interesting, but almost entirely unknown, region, and her remarks were ably reinforced by a number of ladies who had read the book.

At the close Miss Winston was given a rising vote of thanks for her work in conducting the Round Table, which has proven especially delightful and profitable during the past winter.

The History Class will hold its final meeting on Wednesday, when Mrs. Alice M. Taylor will read a paper on "Early Colonial Writers of Virginia."

Sponsor and Maid.

Commander James P. Banks, of the Virginia Division, Sons of Confederate

Veterans, has appointed Miss Lucy Atkinson Mellwaine, daughter of the Hon. William B. Mellwaine, of Petersburg, State sponsor for the Sons of Veterans at the Confederate Reunion in Richmond this year.

Miss Grace Ratcliffe Day, of Smithfield, Va., will be her maid of honor. Both Miss Mellwaine and Miss Day are well known here, and the announcement of their appointment will be received with pleasure by their many friends.

Richardson-For.

A very pretty marriage took place yesterday afternoon at the residence of the bride's mother, No. 721 North Avenue, Brookland Park, when Miss Fannie Ellen For became the wife of Mr. Z. P. Richardson, Jr., the groom's father, Rev. Z. P. Richardson, of Lynchburg, officiated, assisted by Rev. Henry Pearce Atkins.

The parlors were tastefully decorated in palms and lighted with pink candles. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Fannie E. For and the late Walter H. For. Mr. Richardson is a prosperous young business man.

After a tour, including Baltimore and other Northern points, Mr. and Mrs. Richardson will reside in Richmond.

Personal Mention.

RAILROAD MEN SEE RICHMOND

Passenger Agents of Pennsylvania Visit Places of Interest in City.

ENJOY LUNCHEON AT CLUB

Governor and Mayor Make Brief Speeches—Off for Old Point.

Fifty or more passenger agents of the Pennsylvania Railway saw many of the sights of Richmond yesterday, had a two-hours' ride around the city, enjoyed a lunch at the Jefferson, heard the Governor of Virginia and the Mayor of Richmond speak, and then resumed their journey to Old Point, happy and, perhaps, wiser men.

Early yesterday morning Thos. Manager W. P. Taylor, of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac, took the Pennsylvanians in charge. He was assisted in doing the honors by Mr. J. B. Mordecai, of the same line; Mr. W. O. Warthen, of the Chesapeake and Ohio; Mr. H. S. Leard, of the Seaboard; Mr. C. H. Hoyer, of the Norfolk and Western, and Assistant President W. D. Duke, of the Washington-Southern.

The whole party took carriages at the Jefferson at 9:30 o'clock, and the two-hours' drive was begun. Old St. John's the park and high hills, the industrial sections of the city, the monuments, St. Paul's Church and other places of interest were visited. The party reached the Commonwealth Club at 1:30 o'clock and were there joined by Governor Swanson, Mayor McCarthy and President White, of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad.

Governor and Mayor Speak.

After the elegant menu was properly attended to, although the time was short, the railroad men listened to the Governor and the Mayor speak.

In a few well-chosen words Mayor McCarthy welcomed the strangers to the city of Richmond and gave them a concise idea of the vigorous and wide awake sort of a place they were then sojourning in.

Governor Swanson spoke briefly on the true relations of the people to the railways and the railways to the people.

There is no reason why they should be antagonistic to each other, he declared, but every reason in the world why they should be the best of friends, working hand in hand for the advancement and prosperity of the State. They are utterly dependent upon each other, and it is to the interest of each that they work harmoniously. The Governor admitted that this has not always been the case, but he believed the day is not far distant when the railways and the public will understand each other better and put together for the common good.

The railroads left by a special line, and the party took a 2 o'clock for Old Point, intending to stop an hour or two at the ancient capital, and while taking in the historic places, also see something of the live Williamsburg of to-day.

HANKS SENTENCED TO 90 DAYS IN JAIL

Charged With Embezzling $20.57 from Insurance Company.

Appeal Taken.

George L. Hanks appeared in the Police Court yesterday morning, charged with embezzling $20.57 from the Southwestern Insurance Company, and was found guilty by Justice Crutchfield and sentenced to ninety days in jail. Mr. E. A. Gray, attorney for the defendant, took an appeal.

The evidence adduced against Hanks by the plaintiff company was to the effect that he had collected a premium on a policy issued before he became general agent for the concern. A contract between the company and Hanks was produced to show that the agent had no right to collect premiums on policies issued before he had been appointed. The contract contained a clause explicitly stating that until notes were collected, premiums on policies paid that way were not to be collected, and that as soon as the notes fell due he was entitled to his commissions. He claimed also that he had money due him from premiums paid with notes which came due in February, but which had gone to protest.

Mrs. A. J. Montague was in Danville Tuesday.

Mrs. Rahm is the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. P. Brett, in Newport News.

Mr. and Mrs. Lehman, Miss Blanche Lehman and Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Lilliston, of Suffolk, are in the city for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Kershner are the guests of relatives and friends in Roanoke.

Captain Hugh C. Braxton, of Staunton, is in the city.

Mrs. C. B. Williamson, who has been undergoing treatment at Memorial Hospital, has returned to his home in Harrisonburg, much improved.

The Rev. C. H. Galloway is the guest of Mr. C. S. Reams, in Lynchburg.

Mr. R. A. Wynn, of Danville, is in the city on business.

General and Mrs. J. E. Roller, of Harrisonburg, are in the city.

Fingers Cut Off.

Catching his hand some machinery, Clarence Childress, an employee of the Baughman Stationery Company, had the two middle fingers of his right hand cut off by Dr. Hudgins of the city ambulance corps, found it necessary to cut off another finger, leaving only the little finger and the thumb.

The Governor sets out his reasons for his action in full, and they are based upon the petition signed by Judge Moffat, who sat in the case; all the court officers and members of the jury, and a large number of prominent citizens.

These papers are accompanied by a certificate from the jail physician declaring that the prisoner's health is in a precarious condition as a result of wounds received in the altercation in which Jett was killed, and that further confinement will seriously jeopardize his life.

The case was one of great public interest, and was vigorously fought out in the courts. There had been blood between the men for some time previous to the killing. Jett's troubles grew out of an alleged insult offered by Jett, and when the two met the climax came, resulting in Jett's being shot to death and Hoback's being dangerously shot with a knife.

Governor Swanson is slow to interfere in such cases, but he is convinced that the man will shortly die if left in prison, and that for this reason and the fact that he has nearly served out his term, he decided to give him his liberty.

WEDDING BELLS IN OLD VIRGINIA

Miss Martha Porter Boswell, of Orange Becomes Bride of Joseph M. Milley.

GROOM A WEST VIRGINIAN

Church Beautifully Decorated and Happy Throng Witness the Interesting Ceremony.

ORANGE, VA., April 17.—Miss Martha Porter Boswell, daughter of the late Charles Hay Boswell, was married at noon to Mr. Joseph Milburn Milley, of Charlottesville, Va. The bride wore white princess lace over chiffon, and carried lilies-of-the-valley. The bride was given away by her mother, who wore black crepe de chine. Mrs. W. C. Guther, only sister of the bride, was matron of honor and wore yellow chiffon over silk, and carried yellow La France roses. The best man was Mr. George B. Goetz, of Charlottesville, Va. The wedding march was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Frank B. Perry, who played Lohengrin's wedding march, and during the ceremony played Schubert's serenade.

Rev. John S. Hainsbrough, of St. Thomas's Episcopal Church, performed the ceremony in his usual impressive manner. The house was exquisitely decorated with potted plants and evergreens. Among those present were Senator Shackelford, wife and daughter; Mayor Frank B. Perry and wife, and R. N. Robinson and sister, editors of the Orange Observer.

The bridal pair left on a northbound train for an extended wedding trip.

HOLT-MILLER.

Following Ceremony at Farmville Couple Leave for Home Here.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] FARMVILLE, VA., April 17.—At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Miller, occurred the marriage this afternoon of their daughter, Miss Laurie Virginia, to Mr. Giles Pleasanton Holt, Rev. S. C. Hatcher, of the Methodist Church, performed the ceremony. The parlor was uniquely decorated with the bride and groom being beneath a profusion of fragrant flowers suspended from two Confederate flags, mementoes brought from the Civil War and preserved by the bride's father and his veteran comrade, Captain S. W. Paullett.

The bridal party entered the parlor in the following order: the bride's father and Captain S. W. Paullett, dressed in full Confederate uniforms, led the way, and took their positions on either side of the minister; following came the two bridesmaids, Misses Virginia Paullett and Nellie Miller; Mr. and Mrs. Holt, Rev. S. C. Hatcher, of the Methodist Church, performed the ceremony. The parlor was uniquely decorated with the bride and groom being beneath a profusion of fragrant flowers suspended from two Confederate flags, mementoes brought from the Civil War and preserved by the bride's father and his veteran comrade, Captain S. W. Paullett.

After the ceremony the couple were driven to the Norfolk and Western depot, where they boarded the train for Richmond, their future home. The bride is one of Farmville's most cultured and popular young ladies.

DILLARD-TINSLEY.

Beautiful Wedding of Popular Young Couple at Radford.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] RADFORD, VA., April 17.—A beautiful wedding was celebrated at Grace Church this evening, when Miss Angela Tinsley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Tinsley, became the bride of Mr. Tyree Dillard, of Lynchburg.

The marriage service was performed by the Rev. Dr. Campbell Meyers, the bride and bridegroom standing under an arch of evergreen, from which was suspended a wedding bell of yellow roses. The wedding march was played by Miss Sallie Harris, while Mr. Brown, of the V. P. I. orchestra, played softly "Hearts and Flowers" during the reading of the service, and Professor Abbot, of V. P. I., sang at intervals between the reading "O Perfect Love" and "Whither Thou Goest I Will Go."

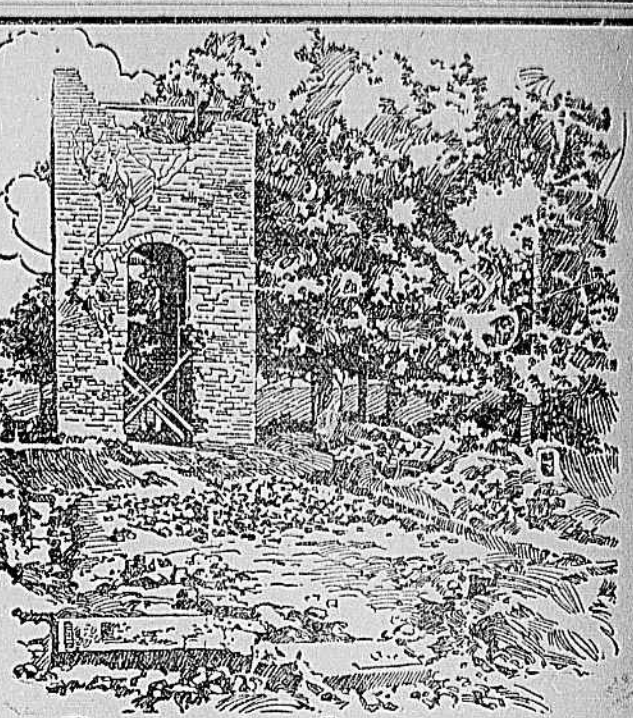

The bridal party consisted of eight attendants: Misses Belle Shepley, Tyler, Misses Moffat, Wilson, Christine Miller, of Danville; Sallie and Minnie Howe and Maud Pamplin. Gowned in white and wearing yellow girdles, shoes and wreaths, they entered by twos, followed by the little ribbon bearers, Wilson Noel, in pure white, and Little Miss Irene Tinsley, sister of the bride, in white, with yellow sash and wreath.

Next came the ushers—Messrs. Sam Dillard and T. H. Miles, of Lynchburg—followed by the maid of honor, Miss Rontus Tinsley, a sister of the bride. Her gown was a white lace robe, over yellow tulle, with yellow wreath, slippers and sash.

The bride, who is a pretty brunette, was very handsome in a gown of chiffon, massive over tulle, with trimmings of real princess lace, the gift of her grandmother, Mrs. James, of Danville. Her veil was of tulle, caught with orange blossoms, and she carried a white kid prayerbook. She entered with and was given away by her father.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a reception, relatives and out-of-town friends at the home of the bride, the entire lower floor of which was beautifully decorated in ropes of evergreens, ferns and blooming plants, with yellow-shaded electric lights and candelabra. Among the relatives and out-of-town guests were Dr. and Mrs. R. B. James, of Danville; Mr. and Mrs. A. James, of Danville; Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Moore and Miss Christine Miller, of Danville; Mr. Bruce Tinsley, of Big Stone Gap; Mr. Cecil Tinsley, of Winston-Salem; Miss Marie Dillard, Messrs. J. M. and S. H. Dillard, Miss Woodale Taylor and Mr. T. M. Miles, of Lynchburg; Miss Mattie Thomas, of Christiansburg; Messrs. C. Miles, John Waldrop, Mr. Brown, Major Wood and Professor Abbot, of V. P. I.

On their return from an extended Southern trip Mr. and Mrs. Dillard will reside in Lynchburg.
